

Terms and conditions for iPhone bundles

These terms and conditions are meant to help our non-Czech customers understand the terms of service. Please refer to the Czech version of this document for the complete, legally binding terms and conditions.

Each iPhone bundle offers customers an iPhone 3G mobile handset and a bundle of O2 voice and data services under advantageously-priced conditions.

A customer who signs a 24-month contract for usage of O2 services and, at the same time, commits to a specific level of a minimum fulfillment during the first year of validity of the contract has the right to an iPhone bundle. During the second year of the validity of the contract, the customer is bound to contractual conditions of the "Special Offer" without a specific level of minimum fulfillment.

iPhone bundles are intended for activation only together with the purchase of an iPhone 3G mobile handset for a subsidized price, which is set separately for each iPhone bundle.

An iPhone bundle consists of:

- a standard voice tariff, in accordance with the valid conditions of this tariff
- a bundle of free SMS messages and calling minutes to all networks provided in addition to those included in the tariff
- the O2 Internet on your mobile service, in accordance with the valid conditions of this service
- the Nonstop tariff of the O2 Hot Spot service, free of charge
