Each Domain Name registration will be handled according to the Rules in effect on the date the application or request for a Domain Name registration is complete.

3. By way of exception to the provision set out in Section 14(2) hereof, the Registry may dispense with the aforementioned minimum period of thirty (30) days. Such modifications will take effect at the time they are announced on the Website of the Registry. The Registry may only make use of this specific procedure provided the relevant modifications seem to be justified within the relevant national or international technical context and provided they are intended to prevent Domain Name registrations of a speculative or abusive nature.
4. The Registry will not at any time, including where an earlier application for a Domain Name registration has previously been rejected, personally inform Registrants that these Terms and Conditions and/or the Registration Policy are to be or have been modified, even if their previously rejected application or applications for Domain Name registration would otherwise be allowed under the modified Terms and Conditions and/or the Registration Policy.

Any ADR Procedure initiated against the Registry shall be conducted in the English language.
4. All disputes covered by this section will be governed by the .eu Dispute Resolution Rules applicable upon filing of the complaint and the selected ADR Provider's rules of procedure, as published on the Website of the Registry.
5. The remedies available to a Complainant under any proceedings before an arbitrator (or panel of arbitrators) appointed by an ADR Provider are strictly limited to:
 - (i) annulment of the challenged Registry decision, in case the ADR Procedure is initiated on the basis of Article 22(1)(b) of the Public Policy Rules; and
 - (ii) revocation or transfer of the Domain Name in case the ADR procedure is initiated on the basis of Article 21.1(a) of the Public Policy Rules.
