

About Telefónica Group

In 2009, the group adopted an integrated decentralised governance model, through which it strives for maximum exploitation of the potential of all business units. Telefónica's operations are divided into three regions – Spain, Latin America and Europe. The group maintains an optimal revenue distribution in the regions, and 64% of all revenues are generated in other than the home market.